CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL.

Spring Time in Gotham.

NEW YORK, May 5th, 1855.

MESSRS EDITORS.—I think there is no pleasanter season than spring, when it first practically dawns on a metropolis like this. To one not given to leisure, of course it is too early to think of country rambles, and watching in rural districts the awakening of dame Nature and the toilet decorations in which she arrays herself in beauty to gladden the eye and heart, as she comes forth in balmy freshness to the world. But it is pleasant to note her footsteps in dusty streets, in parks and little garden patches, where grass contrives to look greenland tender in its infancy, and bushes and springing flowers through iron fences, and beyond stone walls, carry one's thoughts far away, by bubbling brooks and solitary nooks, where such attractions are on a grander scale, and where the rumbling "bus" and the roar of traffic, never with defiling presence near the quiet beauties of rustic neighborhoods.

It is pleasant up town to see the "Croton" once more phizzing away at basement windows, and on side-walks are the rake, the hoe and pruning knife at work again; to notice open windows and catch passing glimpses at the delightful processes of house-cleaning within, and linger as the gorgeousness of tiers of floral hot-house gems are now and then disclosed to view in localities sometimes called "Japonicadom." Now your country bumpkin would turn up his nose at the sight of a few spring birds hopping about on a gravelled path, trying the strength of their legs, or voices, or looking out furniture for housekeeping; but such little items are cheering sights to your country-loving "cit," and he would not have one shot, or stoned, or even sneezed at, for worlds, though he may be perfectly aware that in some places they inhabit to such extent as to build up Islands, the carrying away of which may be profitable work for fleets of ships for ages; no, no, his city birds are like Tim Linkinwaters' venerable blackbird, — there does'nt exist anywhere else such wonderful feathered productions.

And then it is pleasant to go to the market—you'll catch a sight of green peas hot from afar, and a smell of real violets and modest country flowers in little posies, sixpence apiece,—the first yellow butter, a golden cure for sore eyes or a delicate palate,—and then how moist look the the crisp lettuce and radishes, the water cresses and the dandelions, which come to maturity even before the grass. There are lots of ways in which one can get a sniff of spring amid brick walls, if he only has a taste to try. But the real city spring is another sort of affair; you see that in shop windows, where stunning vest patterns and marvellously colored and tied chokers allure the eye of young Gothamites, just dawning into manhood, in whose minds a taste for studs, sleeve buttons, and all those little nothings which adorn the outward man, forms the sum and substance of human excellence. You see it in "the loves of bonnets" revolving by scores on wax heads, to astonish the other sex. Everything that is wintry is hauled back into dark corners, and all things that speak of the opening season brought forth to the light. Then, if you like to hear speeches and opinions on all subjects, some which you can endorse, and some which you can't, the Anniversaries are at hand,—and if you are a quiet man and prim withal, behold, there are the followers of Paan to admire, the flattering of drab bonnets, and mouse colored trimmings act as a sedative to a weary soul in this pleasantest time of all the year.

Gotham has survived another May day, which might fill up a book to describe; but the theme is too moving a one for my taste just now, and forego to my experience. The eye, it is true, took it all in, both the serious and the comic side, and the nose is still offended by the burning of straw beds emptied, which by universal customers offered up at street altars, to appease, no doubt, the god of the day for all the rack and ruin that is consummated during the short-lived but memorable domestic war which afflicts this people annually.

One misses in New York the old Art Union rooms into which he could stray once, whenever the mood was on him, and take a quick and quiet look at artist life, and perchance build up gradually a taste for such rational pleasures as lie in that path;—now, the shop windows are the only resource left, or a visit to Goupil & Co's, or Williams' & Stevens' rooms, where are occasionally exhibited the productions of foreign genius of a high order. At the rooms of the latter are at present two very Scotchy paintings by 'Duncan'—interesting for their merit and subject. They picture the departure of Bonny Prince Charlie and his friends from Edinboro Town, to the ill-fated field of Culloden,—and the imprisonment of Flora McDonald and her heroic brother, all so graphically described by the immortal Scott, in 'Waverly."

One item in the late foreign news, was of melancholy interest to many on this side the water I allude to the death of Charlotte Bronte, the last of the three Bells whose strange music has been so welcome at intervals to the reading world, stilled by the same hand that sent to an early grave the other sisters. It is but a few years since the productions of the remarkable trio first astonished us, and how universal was the question, "have you read Jane Eyre?"—While the wonderment was great, and the writers were unknown, the news come that two of them were dead, the authoresses of "Wuthering Weights" and "Wildfell Hall." Botanists found it hard to class those strange wild flowers, and so called them nondescripts. They sat at defiance, in their savage wildness, all criticism.—They were crude as the ore which first comes from the mine, with all its blemishes, but the gold was so distinct that it showed a vein of peculiar richness had been struck; but the miners ceased their labors too soon, and one left its wealth unexplored.

With the admirers of "Jane Eyre and Villette," the works of the surviving sister, there was always a strong desire to know their author, that they might see in her, as they fancied, the embodiment of those two remarkable creations, but that pleasure will never be theirs, neither will they welcome again the flights of her strange fancy, nor become forgetful of all outward things over new pages made luminous by her brilliant and nervous pen. They can never again and again to the fascinations of the poet, but that is all that is left them of "Jane Eyre," and "Villette," for "Currer Bell" has her grave by the brawling brook of her own Yorkshire hills, where the "Banshee" keening, and cold, driving rain will never disturb her.

"Il Trovatore," at the "Academy," has succeeded "Wm. Tell, the most successful opera ever given to an American public. The new production of Verdi made its first appearance in London and New York nearly at the same moment, and is not yet out of the critics hands, and I doubt very much if a thorough criticism will be ventured, until a thorough opinion from abroad is given as to its merits; so much is our opinion on most subjects appertaining to the arts controlled by foreign ones. It is enough to say that the opera takes, and is put on the stage in a manner no opera ever was before in these parts. The music of it is highly dramatic and florid; but few melodies until the 4th act, which caps the climax of passion and effect, affording Steffanoni the opportunity of excelling even herself, and Brignoli, the next best tenor we have had to Mario, of showing his graceful person and sweet and powerful voice to great advantage.

The new barritone "Amodio" is a "rouser;" more power even than Badiali. Vestvali as an old Gipsy, is very fine, tho' her grace and beauty are entirely obliterated by her dress, much to one's regret. You should hear the "sledge hammer" chorus in the Gypsy Cave. It is one of the most striking and novel things ever dished up in a musical way, and fairly brings down the House, while one "encore" does'nt begin to satisfy.

Niblo commences on Monday with a new troupe, of whom report speaks highly, and much curiosity is felt to hear the Baronne Lagrange for the first time. But my shreed is told. Farewell for the present. VIOLA.

The Pope's Narow Escape!

Rome, April 14.

The day before yesterday his Holiness was as nearly as possible crushed to death in the monastery of St. Angee extra muros, where he had been dining with a select party of cardinals and prelates, besides the dignitaries of his household, and the French and Austrian generals commanding at Rome and Ancona. De Montreal and Hayes.

His Holiness entertained his distinguished guests at dinner in a large hall on the first floor, and subsequently admitted the pupils of the Propaganda College to kiss his foot. At this moment about 150 persons were collected together around the Pope, when an awful tremor manifested itself in the flooring, which His Holiness instantly perceived, and endeavored to prevent his guests from being alarmed at, assuring them that it was the shock of an earthquake, a phenomenon with which his residence as nuncio in South America had rendered him somewhat familiar However, before any further conjectures were broached, the floor gave way.

"With ominous ruin and sombustion dire."

and Pope, prelates, cardinals, generals, soldiers, scholars were precipitated through it, without order of precedence, among falling beams and fragments of masonry. Cardinal Antonelli's good luck saved him alone of all the cardinals present, he was near the window, to which he clung for support, but his eminent brethren Marini and Patrizi were severely injured in their fall, as was the French general, and a great number of the Propaganda pupils. The Nono himself descended unhurt, and sitting in his Papal chair, and was extricated from the wreck amid exclamations of miracolo! miracolo! from all around. In gratitude for such an escape, his Holiness forthwith invited all who were able to follow him to enter the church, and with a loud voice intoned a thanksgiving to the Almighty, and afterward received the sacramental benediction from Monsignor Tizzani.

Meanwhile the wounded were got out from the ruins, and conveyed to Rome in carriages, much to the surprise of the peaceful citizens who had assembled at the gates, and were consternated to see so many priests with their heads tied up.—Some chaulest jockeys were expected from the steeple chase, but it was supposed that the Pope's procession would be by no means so dangerous.—An Irish Propaganda pupil boasts of having been the first to succor his Holiness, the same youth who was receiving a congratulatory sonnet to the Pope when the floor gave way, and was consequently in immediate proximity during the descent to the regions below. The great carpet, which had been spread over the floor, is supposed to have broken the Pope's fall by rendering it more gradual, but to whatever tutelar influence we may choose to attribute it, his Holiness certainly did escape safe and sound, and the Roman municipal council and Senate, viewing it in the light of a prodigy, have given orders for a devout thanksgiving to the Immaculate Conception during three days, to commence on Monday next.

The Pope's dogmatical definition will thus have another celebration, in addition to that of last week, when the Immaculate Conception was introduced into the Easter fireworks. The girandola was entirely in character with the great ecclesiastical event of the season. Innumerable fire balloons in the form of mitres, represented the congregation of prelates, and an illuminated temple, column, and statue of the "Immaculate," blazed forth with the inscription "Virginus gloriam Jus."—[Cor. London News.

SENATOR WILSON ON SLAVERY.—Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, delivered a Lecture on Slavery, in the Metroplitan Theatre, New York, last week, from which we extract the closing portion, as sufficiently indicative of his views and position on this engrossing topic:

The time has come for us to declare for the abolition of Slavery everywhere that the Constitution permits. Let it remain in the Slave States, (as the slave-owners have the power there) but in the District of Columbia and the Territories we will abolish Slavery. [Loud applause.] We will repeal the Fugitive Slave Law, and Kansas shall come into the Union as a Free State or never come in. [Loud applause.] In 1856 Anti-Slavery men of all shades must combine to pledge the candidate for the Presidency that he will favor the restoration of Nebraska and Kansas to Freedom. We have the power to do this, and we will do it. We will do it because we love the master as well as the slave. We will blot from the statute books of every Free Stat every enactment that makes a distinction between men on account of their color. We are for the Constitution and the Union; we take the declaration of the Constitution itself, and hold that Slavery is sectional—Freedom national.—[Tremendous applause.] Mr. Mason of Virginia declared it a motion he made to repeal the Nebraska Slave Law, or to restore Kansas and Nebraska to Freedom, he will turn his back on the Senate Chamber and go home. But there is no danger for the Union; the States would revolve in their accustomed orbit even though the great luminary from Virginia were withdrawn. [Loud laughter and applause.] Our Union will be safe even when we carry out our great principle, (as we surely will)—Freedom and free institutions for all; chains and Slavery for none. [Tremendous and prolonged applause.]

Reports on the Stock Exchange.—Rumored Resignation of Lord Panmure, Minister of War.—Rumored Abandonment or the Siege of Sebastopol.—Decline in Consols!

FRIDAY EVENING April 28.—This has been an exceedingly dull and anxious day in the city; annoying to the fact of no intelligence from Sebastopol having transpired, although the Government are known to posses the means of direct communication, a variety of adverse rumors have been circulated with considerable effect. Consols were first quoted at the closing prices of last evening—namely, 89 to ½ from which they declined until there were sellers at 88¾, the unfavorable reports of the speculators, which included the loss of a line-of-battle ship and the bombardment of Sebastopol, being solved by a statement that Lord Panmure intends to resign his post as War-Minister. A sudden rise in the corn-market, in consequence of the continued absence of rain and the diminished expectations of peace, likewise operated badly.—The gloomy tendency, however, was partially arrested by better prices from Paris, consequent upon the journey of the Emperor to the Crimea having been postponed or abandoned, and a belief in some quarters that Austria will yet act openly; and the last transactions were at 88¾ to ⅞ for both money and account.

Lake Shore Road.

The whistle of the engine is heard every few hours in our city from the engine on this road, and but a few miles now remains to be laid to finish the track between Milwaukee and Chicago.

For the benefit of our Eastern friends, who think that all great works commence at the great cities of the East, and end in some unknown part of the West, it is worth noting that the first locomotive that come whizzing through our city was from the North, and the second will soon be heard starting from a place that was a wilderness long after the East was in the first fever of Barnumism, and that is but a few years since.—[Racine Democrat.

The Locomotive referred to was built at the Menomonee Foundry in this city.

MICHIGAN SOUTHERN RAILROAD LINE.—We have before alluded to the arrangements of this line for the present season. Capt. I. T. Pheatt commands the Northern Indiana, which is to leave Mondays and Thursdays; Capt. A. D. Perkins the Southern Michigan, leaving Tuesdays and Fridays, and Capt. R. Goldsmith the Empire State, leaving Wednesdays and Saturdays. All of these boats are well known and deservedly popular.—During the present winter they have been put in complete order, and are now equal to any that travel on our waters.—[Buffalo Commercial.

HEAVY FREIGHTS.—As the Steamers and Propellers from the Lower Lakes begin to arrive, long caravans of teams begin to extend into the country to clear away the immense piles of goods the continually tend to block up the Pier and Warehouses. Among the many heavy freights that have already been landed at this port, we not se that of the Propeller Mount Vernon, on Wednesday morning, amounting to 55 tons. The Propeller Lady of the Lake, Capt. Rossen, from Ogdensburgh arrived on Tuesday, landing about 100 passengers, mostly from the Eastern States, all of whom were seeking homes in Wisconsin.—[Sheboygan Times, May 10.

A PRESIDENTIAL TEAM.—The party that rallies on the Poole platform, have made the following nominations for the Presidency:

For President,

GEN. JOSEPH HISS, of Massachusetts.

For Vice President,

MRS PATTERSON, of Boston.

We did not before know that Miss was a General Mrs. P., who will act as his Vice, if elected, has done corporal service in the Bay State.—[Boston Atlas.

FIRE!—A fire broke out yesterday afternoon in the frame dwelling house—on the corner nearly in rear of the Court House, owned by Elder Miller and occupied by the Rev. Mr. Nolen. The house was badly scorched, and considerably injured by tearing away the siding and shingles to get at the fire, which was in the walls and roof. The damage was about $150, which was covered by insurance.—[Madison Democrat.

RIL. & WATERTOWN RAILROAD.—We understand that the Supervisors of some of those towns that have voted to give their bonds to aid in the construction of the Milwaukee & Watertown R. R., have given their assent to issue them. This is right, and we hope and believe that there are none who will commit so suicidal an act as refuse.—[Columbus Republican.

CITY MATTERS.

POLICE COURT.—May 14.

BEFORE GILSTON WALWORTH, ESQ., POLICE JUSTICE.

A warrant was issued against William Foley, on complaint of his wife for threatening to kill her.

A city warrant was issued against Peter, (alias) for discharging a fire-arm within the city limits.

ROBBING A MONEY DRAWER.—James Conly, a sailor-looking man, was brought down from jail and examined on a charge of robbing the till of Mr. Nugent, a saloon keeper, on Walker's Point, on Friday last. The evidence was conclusive against the defendant, a part of the money found on him being proved as money paid to the complainant a short time before, and placed in the till. The money, or a part of it, was identified by a nigger named David Roberts, who stated that he had been in the city but two weeks, but had lived for sixteen years in Massachusetts, in the town where the Pilgrims landed, and where he had never seen a thief. On the defendant was found a one dollar bill which he told the constable he got from the Mayor of the city a "great, big, fat fellow," a decided mistake as to the person. The man was required to give bail in the sum of $250, and in default was taken back to jail.

In the afternoon, William Foley was examined on a charge of threatening the life of his wife, and required to give bail in the sum of $250 to keep the peace for three months. The defendant on hearing the order of the Court, stated that he was as willing to go to jail as to stay out. The Court remarked that he had no compunctions in sending a man to jail who abused a woman as he had his wife; his great trouble was his drinking too much liquor.

The complainant herself stated under oath, that she always took him a pint of whisky whenever his boat came in; while the defendant himself tried to impress upon the Court the fact that she was as much to blame as him for the effects of the whiskey with which she had supplied him. No bail being given, the defendant was taken back to jail.

A SORRY STORY—WHOSE BUSINESS IS IT?—Yesterday Spring St. Bridge was open a good part of the forenoon, the brig Nebraska, with a cargo of lumber, though drawing only 8½ ft. water, getting aground on the bar just north of the bridge, and shortly afterwards the brig Fanny Gardner, coming down from the mills with a large load of flour, getting fast near the same place. We notice that the dredge was at work in the basin in the afternoon, and hope that the machine will continue its explorations up the river, if it can be spared from excavating work on the Straight Cut. If not, what is to be done? Will somebody tell us?

LESSONS IN FRENCH & FENCING.—MONSIEUR and Madame DECRETY announce in our advertising columns, that they are prepared to give instruction in the French Language to classes of young Ladies & Gentlemen, at their residence on Van Buren Street, from and after the 19th instant. For those desirous of obtaining a thorough knowledge of the French Language, no better opportunity could be offered. Monsieur and Madame DE CRETY are entirely competent to the task which they undertake and none could fail to profit by their instruction. MR. DECRETY, who is a thorough swordsman, will also instruct a class in Fencing. Both as an exercise and as an accomplishment, Fencing is worth any man's attention.

CONCERT ON FRIDAY.—The Programme of Madame JACOBI'S Concert will be found in our advertising columns. It is certainly a very inviting one. As we said yesterday, Madame JACOBI desires to make herself known to our citizens, as a Teacher of Music, and the Concert on Friday will give the public a good opportunity of judging of her merits. It will be seen that she is to be assisted by some of the beats musical talent of our city.

DER FREISCHUETZ.—Instead of "Norma," the opera of "Der Freischuetz" will be given on the 24th instant, by our Musical Society, for the benefit of the Musical Hall Fund. The Opera itself should attract a full house, and our music-loving public ought to contribute readily and liberally to the object proposed.

REAL ESTATE.—CALEB WALL, real estate agent, sold yesterday fractional lots 1 and 2, in block 106, First Ward, corner of Division and Lake streets, for $5500.

Sold by J. Sexton, 160 acres in Muskego, Waukesha Co., for $2650.

J. Reynolds purchased 80 acres in the town of Greenfield, 4 miles out, for $8000.

OSHKOSH DEMOCRAT.—We commend to the attention of our merchants the card of the publisher of the Oshkosh Democrat, one of the best papers of the State, and circulating largely in several counties which are rapidly being filled with an excellent population—farmers from the Eastern States who are able to live well, and require large supplies.

PARTNERSHIP.—By an advertisement it will be seen that Dr. G. W. PERRINE, late from New York, has become associated with Dr. TRACY in the practice of Medicine. Dr. T.'s numerous "customers"—it is rather an odd word for the purpose—will find Dr. PERRINE a gentleman, a pleasant acquaintance, and a thoroughly educated physician.

FOR GREEN BAY.—The steamer Superior will leave Dousman's dock, on the river, THIS morning at 8 o'clock for Green Bay, touching at Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers. For passage apply on board, or to J. GRIFFIN on Huron street, three doors east of American Express Company's Office.

COLLINGWOOD LINE.—The Lady Elgin, Capt. CHAMBERLAIN, will leave Kellogg & Strongs Pier this evening at 7 o'clock, for Collingwood, Lake Huron, connecting with the Railroad to Toronto and boats to Oswego, Lewiston, &c. It is a delightful route for travellers bound East.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Mr. Crampton sold the latter part of last week the North half of lot 5 in block 9 for $4,300 cash. This is the vacant 30 feet on the West side of Main, next to the corner of Wisconsin street.

REMOVAL.—The office of the La Crosse & Milwaukee R. R. Co., heretofore kept in Holton's Block, Fourth Ward, is about being removed to the Depot of the Company in the Second Ward, adjoining Chestnut Street Bridge.

IN GREAT BUSINESS.—The Wisconsin, publishing paragraphs encouraging the infernal racket with which passengers arriving in our city are assailed at the railroad depot and docks. Appropriate enough, however.

THE "HOME."—This well-known Eating House has been thoroughly cleansed and renovated with the in-coming of Spring, and BELDEN is now prepared to accommodate his friends and the public as nobody else can.

PROPELLER NIAGARA.—Consignees by this propellar, which met with a serious disaster on Lake Huron last fall, are referred to our advertising columns for a notice of special interest to them.

FOR BUFFALO.—The propeller Alleghany will leave WM. BROWN & Co.'s wharf on the pier, at 8 o'clock THIS evening, for Buffalo. For passage having good accommodations, apply to J. Griffin.

WEATHER.—Rain is very much needed, and farmers are beginning to look anxiously for it.—At the time of going to press, the clouds looked encouragingly.

DRY GOODS.—WALL has a large sale of staple Dry Goods at auction this morning. See advertisement

☞ The steamer Traveller arrived from Chicago yesterday afternoon, with 300 passengers, most of them Eastern families.

CABINETMEN WANTED.—Three of them—see advert sement.

HOUSE TO RENT.—See D. G. POWER'S advertisement.

GRAPES.—CRAMPTON sells a fine lot of plants this morning.

SEWING MACHINES.—See advertisement of Sewing Machines for sale.

The week past has been one of considerable activity, both shipments and receipts by Lake having been large, and the river generally full of shipping. Quite a number of steam craft have arrived from Buffalo, and nearly 600 tons of merchandize have been landed at the docks and gone into the warehouses of our merchants, or into the country. Several of our wholesale houses have received large consignments of goods by railroad, no goods by the Erie Canal having as yet come through.

The shipments of flour and wheat, as will have been seen above, have been large, and a material reduction is thus made in the stock to go forward. Receipts of wheat from the country are, however, increasing, and there probably remains yet 45,000 bbls. flour and 900,000 bus wheat for shipment.

Our accounts from the country, of the condition of the growing crops, continue favorable, though rain is much needed, all over the State. Our exchanges all speak in the most encouraging terms of the prospect for the farmers.

The following general summary, which we find in the Albany Evening Journal, saves us the labor of making similar one.

From a great number of extracts from papers in various sections, showing the prospects in their localities, we make a general summary.

Wheat in Western New York, is said to be looking unusually fine. The Livingston and Ontario papers say that at least a quarter more than usual has been sown in the eastern part of the State it has not got so good a start owing to the late cold rains, but still promises well. In Ohio heavy spring crops have been put in, and vegetation, it is said, never came on more with greater rapidity in Michigan, though "freezings and thawings" at first early destroyed the last it has revived and is doing well in Northern Indiana. It has rarely, if ever, started better, though in the southern part of the State it looks badly. There times the amount ever put in before has been sown. In Illinois and Wisconsin, it is remarkably fine "if no untoward event interposes," says a Chicago paper, the northwest, which is the granary of the Union, will turn out a surplus which will gladden the hearts of the needless in the Eastern cities" In Pennsylvania and New Jersey, prospects are much the same as in New York. In Western Virginia it has been doing badly, but appreheusions are now entertained that the crop will be all short of the average. In Georgia, however, the long reach it is believed has considerably damaged the prospect of a full crop In Maryland the fields look an unusually large one, as they do in Kentucky and Tennessee, there much more than the usual amount has been sown. In Texas.

It is a together too soon to speculate about the Corn crop in the Northern States. In Virginia, Maryland and southern Indiana, they have been planting with good weather and fair prospects But in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, where it ought now to be more than a foot high, it is looking worse than in many cases. Some is killed outright, and nearly all nearly injured by the long drouth. There is reason to apprehend that the yield in these States will be much below the usual crop.

With regard to future prices, it is as difficul as ever to make calculations When, however, it is considered that in about six or seven weeks, the wheat will begin to come into New York from the Southern markets, it may well be doubted whether figures will go higher than at present; and indeed the chances seem decidedly in favor of a decline in prices Since, then, farmers are now obtaining and may be sure of obtaining large prices for their produce for some weeks to come, it is for them to consider whether their best course is not to push forward their remaining stocks.

FLOUR—Not much doing in the way of sales here.—Holders are pretty firm, and buyers dislike to come to terms, even if money were plenty. There have been no sales of city extra that we know of, but No. 1 brands are selling at 8,25@8,50, and we also note sales of 200 bbls of State Mills extra at 8,75; 300 bbls Watertown Mills extra brought the same price.

Wheat—The market for common qualities has given way somewhat, and we quote dull spring at 1,50@1,53.—Winter brings 1,65@1,75. Sale yesterday of 10,000 bush. mixed, at 1,55, free on board Shipped 192,000 bus.

Ashes—Our latest N. Y. figures are 8,87½ for pots, and 9,18@9,25 for pearls. The market here is about the same less transportation. Shipped 40 casks last week.

Barley—Quiet and firm at our quotations, with very light receipts.

Oats—Receipts increasing rapidly. Holders ask 55c, but we know of no sales above 53, and buyers do not wish to give over 50.

Rye has advanced suddenly and largely, and some 7500 bus have been sold at 1,12½@1,14, while 7,000 bus sold in store at 1,20. The N. Y. market has largely advanced, but it is uncertain how long the high figures will continue, and yesterday showed no change.

Corn steady at 63@65.

Provisions—A considerable stock on hand, and business inactive. Sales are made at a further decline, and we quote at 52@58

Sugars—Receipts during the week of 175 hhds and 100 bbls. Prices tend upwards, but we note no established advance over last week.

☞ The following table shows the number of swine and the quantities of pork, bacon and lard, with their valuations, exported from the United States for the last thirty three years:

| Years. | Hogs No. | Pork bbls. | Bacon lbs | Lard lbs. | Value Dollars. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1820-21 | 7,855 | 66,647 | 1,497,506 | 2,996,561 | 1,845,118 |
| 1825-26 | 6 979 | 88,984 | 1,836,133 | 2,791,643 | 1,899,429 |
| 1830-31 | 14,690 | 51,263 | 1,477,446 | 6,983,518 | 1,500,644 |
| 1835-36 | 1. 30 | 23,850 | 1,798,476 | 6,182,878 | 1,383,344 |
| 1840-41 | 7 9 11 | 133,900 | 8,794,517 | 10,797,645 | 3,681,327 |
| 1845-46 | 7,437 | 190,477 | 3,048,639 | 21,463,164 | 3,843 844 |
| 1852-53 | 6,121 | 199,881 | 18,399,427 | 21,435,014 | 6,202 324 |

According to the census returns of 1840, there were in the United States 26,201,493 swine; of 1850, there were 30,362,213; showing an increase of 4,052,920. The present number may be estimated at 35,000 000; which at five dollars each, would be worth $175,000,000.—*Albany

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL.

Spring Time in Gotham.

NEW YORK, May 5th, 1855.

MESSRS EDITORS.—I think there is no pleasanter season than spring, when it first practically dawns on a metropolis like this. To one not given to leisure, of course it is too early to think of country rambles, and watching in rural districts the awakening of dame Nature and the toilet decorations in which she arrays herself in beauty to gladden the eye and heart, as she comes forth in balmy freshness to the world. But it is pleasant to note her footsteps in dusty streets, in parks and little garden patches, where grass contrives to look green and tender in its infancy, and bushes and springing flowers through iron fences, and beyond stone walls, carry one's thoughts far away, by bubbling brooks and solitary nooks, where such attractions are on a grander scale, and where the rumbling "bus" and the roar of traffic, never with defiling presence soar the quiet beauties of rustic neighborhoods.

It is pleasant up town to see the "Croton" once more phizzing away at basement windows, and on side-walks are the rake, the hoe and pruning knife at work again; to notice open windows and catch passing glimpses at the delightful processes of house-cleaning within, and linger as the gorgeousness of tiers of floral hot-house gems are now and then disclosed to view in localities sometimes called "Japonicadom." Now your country bumpkin would turn up his nose at the sight of a few spring birds hopping about on a gravelled path, trying the strength of their legs, or voices, or looking out furniture for housekeeping; but such little items are cheering sights to your country-loving "cit," and he would not have one shot or stoned, or even sucered at, for worlds, though he may be perfectly aware that in some places they inhabit to such extent as to build up Islands, the carrying away of which may be profitable work for fleets of ships for ages; no, no, his city birds are like Tim Linkinwaters' venerable blackbird, — there does'nt exist anywhere else such wonderful feathered productions.

And then it is pleasant to go to the market—you'll catch a sight of green peas bro't from afar, and a smell of real violets and modest country flowers in little posies, sixpence apiece,—the first yellow butter, a golden cure for sore eyes or a delicate palate,—and then how moist look the the crisp lettuce and radishes, the water cresses and the dandelions, which come to maturity even before the grass. There are lots of ways in which one can get a sniff of spring amid brick walls, if he only has a taste to try. But the real city spring is another sort of affair; you see that in shop windows, where stunning vest patterns and marvellously colored and tied chokers allure the eye of young Gothamites, just dawning into manhood, to whose minds a taste for studs, sleeve buttons, and all those little nothings which adorn the outward man, forms the sum and substance of human excellence. You see it in "the loves of bonnets" revolving by scores on wax heads, to astonish the other sex. Everything that is wintry is hauled back into dark corners, and all things that speak of the opening season brought forth to the light. Then, if you like to hear speeches and opinions on all subjects, some which you can endorse, and some which you can't, the Anniversaries are at hand,—and if you are a quiet man and prim withal, behold, there are the followers of Paan to admire, the flattering of drab bonnets, and mouse colored trimmings act as a sedative to a weary soul in this pleasantest time of all the year.

Gotham has survived another May day, which might fill up a book to describe; but the theme is too moving a one for my taste just now, and foreign to my experience. The eye, it is true, took it all in, both the serious and the comic side, and the nose is still offended by the burning of straw beds emptied, which by universal custom are offered up at street altars, to appease, no doubt, the god of the day for all the muck and ruin that is consummated during the short-lived but memorable domestic war which afflicts this people anually.

One misses in New York the old Art Union rooms into which he could stray once, whenever the mood was on him, and take a quick and quiet look at artist life, and perchance build up gradually a taste for such rational pleasures as lie in that path;—now, the shop windows are the only resource left, or a visit to Goupil & Co's, or Williams' & Stevens' rooms, where are occasionally exhibited the productions of foreign genius of a high order. At the rooms of the latter are at present two very Scotchy paintings by "Duncan"—interesting for their merit and subject. They picture the departure of Bonny Prince Charlie and his friends from Edinbro Town, to the ill-fated field of Culloden,—and the imprisonment of Flora McDonald and her heroic brother, all so graphically described by the immortal Scott, in "Waverly."

One item in the late foreign news, was of melancholy interest to many on this side the water I allude to the death of Charlotte Bronte, the last of the three Bells whose strange music has been so welcome at intervals to the reading world, stilled by the same hand that sent to an early grave the other sisters. It is but a few years since the productions of the remarkable trio first astonished us, and how universal was the question, "have you read Jane Eyre?"—While the wonderment was great, and the writers were unknown, the news came that two of them were dead, the authoresses of "Wuthering Weights" and "Wildfell Hall." Botanists found it hard to class those strange wild flowers, and so called them nondescripts. They set at defiance, in their savage wildness, all criticism.—They were crude as the ore which first comes from the mine, with all its blemishes, but the gold was so distinct that it showed a vein of peculiar richness had been struck; but the miners ceased their labors too soon, and one left its wealth unexplored.

With the admirers of "Jane Eyre and Villette," the works of the surviving sister, there was always a strong desire to know their author, that they might see in her, as they fancied, the embodiment of those two remarkable creations, but that pleasure will never be theirs, neither will they welcome again the flights of her strange fancy, nor become forgetful of all outward things over new pages made luminous by her brilliant and nervous pen. They can recur again and again to the fascinations of the poet, but that is all that is left them of "Jane Eyre," and "Villette," for "Currer Bell" has her grave by the brawling brook of her own Yorkshire hills, where the "Banshee" keening, and cold, driving rain will never disturb her.

"Il Tooatore," at the "Academy," has succeeded "Wm Tell, the most successful opera ever given to an American public. The new production of Verdi' made its first appearance in London and New York nearly at the same moment, and is not yet out of the critics hands, and I doubt very much if a thorough criticism will be ventured, until a thorough opinion from abroad is given as to its merits; so much is our opinion on most subjects appertaining to the arts controlled by foreign ones. It is enough to say that the opera takes, and is put on the stage in a manner no opera ever was before in these parts. The music of it is highly dramatic and florid; but few melodies until the 4th act, which caps the climax of passion and effect, affording Steffanoni the opportunity of excelling even herself, and Brignoli, the next best tenor we have had to Mario, of showing his graceful person and sweet and powerful voice to great advantage.

The new barritone "Amodio" is a "rouser;" more power even than Badiali. Vestvali as an old Gipsy, is very fine, tho' her grace and beauty are entirely obliterated by her dress, much to one's regret. You should hear the "sledge hammer" chorus in the Gypsy Cave. It is one of the most striking and novel things ever dished up in a musical way, and fairly brings down the House, while one "encore" does'nt begin to satisfy.

Niblo commences on Monday with a new troupe, of whom report speaks highly, and much curiosity is felt to hear the Baronne Lagrange for the first time. But my shreed is told. Farewell for the present. VIOLA.

The Pope's Narrow Escape!

Rome, April 14.

The day before yesterday his Holiness was as nearly as possible crushed to death in the monastery of St. Angus extra muros, where he had been dining with a select party of cardinals and prelates, besides the dignitaries of his household, and the French and Austrian generals commanding at Rome and Ancona, De Montreal and Hoyos.

His Holiness entertained his distinguished guests at dinner in a large hall on the first floor, and subsequently admitted the pupils of the Propaganda College to kiss his foot. At the moment about 150 persons were collected together around the Pope, when an awful tremor manifested itself in the flooring, which His Holiness instantly perceived, and endeavored to prevent his guests from being alarmed at, assuring them that it was the shock of an earthquake, a phenomenon with which his residence as nuncio to South America had rendered him somewhat familiar. However, before any further conjectures were broached, the floor gave way.

"With ridiculous calm and combustion dire."

and Pope, prelates, cardinals, generals, soldiers, scholars were precipitated through it, without order of precedence, among falling beams and fragments of masonry. Cardinal Antonelli's good luck saved him alone of all the cardinals present, he was near the window, to which he clung for support, but his eminent brethren Marini and Patrizi were severely injured in their fall, as was the French general, and a great number of the Propaganda pupils. Pio Nono himself descended unhurt, and sitting in his Papal chair, and was extricated from the wreck amid exclamations of miracolo! miracolo! from all around. In gratitude for such an escape, his Holiness forthwith invited all who were able to follow him to enter the church, and with a loud voice intoned a thanksgiving to the Almighty, and afterward received the sacraments of benediction from Monsignor Tizzani.

Mean while the wounded were got out from the ruins, and conveyed to Rome in carriages, much to the surprise of the peaceful citizens who had assembled at the gates, and were consternated to see so many priests with their heads tied up.—Some disabled jockeys were expected from the steeple chase, but it was supposed that the Pope's excursion would be by no means so dangerous.—An Irish Propaganda pupil boasts of having been the first to succor his Holiness, the same youth who was reciting a congratulatory sonnet to the Pope when the floor gave way, and was consequently in immediate proximity during the descent to the regions below. The great carpet, which had been spread over the floor, is supposed to have broken the Pope's fall by rendering it more gradual, but to whatever tutelar influence we may choose to attribute it, his Holiness certainly did escape safe and sound, and the Roman municipal council and Senate, viewing it in the light of a prodigy, have given orders for a devout thanksgiving to the Immaculate Conception during three days, to commence on Monday next.

The Pope's dogmatical definition will thus have another celebration, in addition to that of last week, when the Immaculate Conception was introduced into the *Easter Benedictio*n. The present data was entirely in character with the great ecclesiastical event of the season. Innumerable fine balloons, in the form of mitres, represented the congregation of prelates, and an illuminated temple, column, and statue of the "Immaculate," blazed forth with the inscription "Vidimus gloriam ejus."—[Cor. London News.

SENATOR WILSON ON SLAVERY.—Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, delivered a Lecture on Slavery, in the Metropolitan Theatre, New York, last week, from which we extract the closing portion, as sufficiently indicative of his views and position on this engrossing topic:

The time has come for us to declare for the abolition of Slavery everywhere that the Constitution permits. Let it remain in the Slave States, (as the slave-owners have the power then) but in the District of Columbia—and the Territories we will abolish Slavery. [Loud applause.] We will repeal the Fugitive Slave Law, and Kansas shall come into the Union as a Free State or never come in. [Loud applause.] In 1856 Anti-Slavery men of all shades must combine to pledge the candidate for the Presidency that he will favor the restoration of Nebraska and Kansas to Freedom. We have the power to do this, and we will do it. We will do it because we love the master as well as the slave. We will blot from the statute books of every Free State every enactment that makes a distinction between men on account of their color. We are for the Constitution and the Union; we are for the declaration of the Constitution itself, and hold that Slavery is sectional—Freedom national.—[Tremendous applause.] Mr. Mason of Virginia declared if a motion be made to repeal the Fugitive Slave Law, or to restore Kansas and Nebraska to Freedom, he will turn his back on the Senate Chamber and go home. But there is no danger for the Union; the States would revolve in their accustomed orbit even though the great luminary from Virginia were withdrawn. [Loud laughter and applause.] Our Union will be safe even when we carry out our great principle, (as we surely will)—Freedom and free institutions for all; chains and Slavery for none. [Tremendous and prolonged applause.]

Reports on the Stock Exchange.—Rumored Resignation of Lord Panmure, Minister of War.—Rumored Abandonment or the Siege of Sebastopol.—Decline in Consols!

FRIDAY EVENING April 28.—This has been an exceedingly dull and anxious day in the city, since nothing to the fact of no intelligence from Sebastopol having transpired, although the Government are known to possess the means of direct communication, a variety of adverse rumors have been circulated with considerable effect. Consols were first quoted at the closing prices of last evening—namely, 89 to ¼, from which they declined until there were sellers at 88¾, the unfavorable reports of the speculators, which included the loss of a line-of battle ship and the bombardment of Sebastopol, being aided by a statement that Lord Panmure intends to resign his post as War-Minister. A sudden rise in the corn-market, in consequence of the continued absence of rain and the diminished expectations of peace, likewise operated beefly.—The gloomy tendency, however, was partially arrested by better prices from Paris, consequent upon the journey of the Emperor to the Crimea having been postponed or abandoned, and a belief in some quarters that Austria will yet act openly; and the last transactions were at 88¾ to ⅞ for both money and account.

Lake Shore Road.

The whistle of the engine is heard every few hours in our city from the engine on this road, and but a few miles now remains to be laid to finish the track between Milwaukee and Chicago.

For the benefit of our Eastern friends, who think that all great works commence at the great cities of the East, and end in some unknown part of the West, it is worth noting that the first locomotive that come whizzing through our city was from the North, and the second will soon be heard starting from a place that was a wilderness long after the East was in the first fever of Railroadism, and that is but a few years since.—[Racine Democrat.

The Locomotive referred to was built at the Menomonee Foundry in this city.

MICHIGAN SOUTHERN RAILROAD LINE.—We have before alluded to the arrangements of this line for the present season. Capt. I. T. Pheatt commands the Northern Indiana, which is to leave Mondays and Thursdays; Capt. A. D. Perkins the Southern Michigan, leaving Tuesdays and Fridays; and Capt. R. Goldsmith the Empire State, leaving Wednesdays and Saturdays. All of these boats are well known and deservedly popular.—During the present winter they have been put in complete order, and are now equal to any that travel on our waters.—[Buffalo Commercial.

HEAVY FREIGHTS.—As the steamers and Propellers from the Lower Lakes begin to arrive, long caravans of teams begin to extend into the country to clear away the immense piles of goods the continually tend to block up the Pier and Warehouses. Among the many heavy freights that have already been landed at this port, we note that of the Propeller Mount Vernon, on We tuesday morning, amounting to 55 tons. The Propeller Lady of the Lake, Capt. Rossman, from Ogdensburgh arrived on Tuesday, leading about 100 passengers, mostly from the Eastern States, all of whom were seeking homes in Wisconsin.—[Sheboygan Times, May 10.

A PRESIDENTIAL TEAM.—The party that rallies on the Poole platform, have made the following nominations for the Presidency:

For President,

GEN. JOSEPH HISS, of Massachusetts.

For Vice President,

MRS PATTERSON, of Boston.

We did not before know that Miss was a General Mrs. P., who will act as his Vice, if elected, has done corporal service in the Bay State.—[Boston Atlas.

FIRE.—A fire broke out yesterday afternoon in the frame dwelling house on the corner nearly in rear of the Court House, owned by Elder Miller and occupied by the Rev. Mr. Nolan. The house was badly scorched, and considerably injured by tearing away the siding and shingles to get at the fire, which was in the walls and roof. The damage was about $150, which was covered by insurance.—[Madison Democrat.

RIL. & WATERTOWN RAILROAD.—We understand that the Supervisors of some of those towns that have voted to give their bonds to aid in the construction of the Milwaukee & Watertown R. R., have given their assent to issue them. This is right, and we hope and believe that there are none who will commit so suicidal an act as refuse.—[Columbus Republican.

CITY MATTERS.

POLICE COURT.—May 14.

BEFORE GILSTON WALWORTH, ESQ., POLICE JUSTICE.

A warrant was issued against William Foley, on complaint of his wife for threatening to kill her.

A city warrant was issued against Peter, (alias) for discharging a fire-arm within the city limits.

ROBBING A MONEY DRAWER.—James Conly, a sailor-looking man, was brought down from jail and examined on a charge of robbing the till of Mr. Nugent, a saloon keeper, on Walker's Point, on Friday last. The evidence was conclusive against the defendant, a part of the money found on him being proved as money paid to the complainant a short time before, and placed in the till. The money, or a part of it, was identified by a nigger, named David Roberts, who stated that he had been in the city but two weeks, but had lived for sixteen years in Massachusetts, in the town where the Pilgrims landed, and where he had never seen a thief. On the defendant was found a one dollar bill which he told the constable he got from the Mayor of the city a "great, big, fat fellow," a decided mistake as to the person. The man was required to give bail to the sum of $250, and in default was taken back to jail.

In the afternoon, William Foley was examined on a charge of threatening the life of his wife, and required to give bail in the sum of $250 to keep the peace for three months. The defendant on hearing the order of the Court, stated that he was as willing to go to jail as to stay out. The Court remarked that he had no compunctions in sending a man to jail who abused a woman as he had his wife; his great trouble was his drinking too much liquor.

The complainant herself stated under oath, that she always took him a pint of whisky whenever his boat came in; while the defendant himself tried to impress upon the Court the fact that she was as much to blame as him for the effects of the whiskey with which she had supplied him. No bail being given, the defendant was taken back to jail.

A SORRY STORY—WHOSE BUSINESS IS IT?—Yesterday Spring St. Bridge was open a good part of the forenoon, the brig Nebraska, with a cargo of lumber, though drawing only 8½ ft. water, getting aground on the bar just north of the bridge, and shortly afterwards the brig Fanny Gardner, coming down from the mills with a large load of flour, getting fast near the same place. We notice that the dredge was at work in the basin in the afternoon, and hope that the machine will continue its explorations up the river, if it can be spared from expeditious work on the Straight Cut. If not, what is to be done? Will somebody tell us?

LESSONS IN FRENCH & FENCING.—MONSIEUR and Madame DECRETY announce, in our advertising columns, that they are prepared to give instruction in the French Language to classes of young Ladies & Gentlemen, at their residence on Van Buren Street, from and after the 19th instant. For those desirous of obtaining a thorough knowledge of the French Language, no better opportunity could be offered. Monsieur and Madame DE CRETY are entirely competent to the task which they undertake and none could fail to profit by their instruction. MR. DECRETY, who is a thorough swordsman, will also instruct a class in Fencing. Both as an exercise and as an accomplishment, Fencing is worth any man's attention.

CONCERT ON FRIDAY.—The Programme of Madame JACOBI'S Concert will be found in our advertising columns. It is certainly a very inviting one. As we said yesterday, Madame JACOBI desires to make herself known to our citizens, as a Teacher of Music, and the Concert on Friday will give the public a good opportunity of judging of her merits. It will be seen that she is to be assisted by some of the beats musical talent of our city.

DER FREISCHUETZ.—Instead of "Norma," the opera of "Der Freischuetz" will be given on the 24th instant, by our Musical Society, for the benefit of the Musical Hall Fund. The Opera itself should attract a full house, and our music-loving public ought to contribute readily and liberally to the object proposed.

REAL ESTATE.—CALEB WALL, real estate agent, sold yesterday fractional lots 1 and 2, in block 106, First Ward, corner of Division and Lake streets, for $5500.

Sold by J. Sexton, 160 acres in Muskego, Waukesha Co., for $2650.

J. Reynolds purchased 80 acres in the town of Greenfield, 4 miles out, for $8000.

OSHKOSH DEMOCRAT.—We commend to the attention of our merchants the card of the publisher of the Oshkosh Democrat, one of the best papers of the State, and circulating largely in several counties which are rapidly being filled with an excellent population—farmers from the Eastern States who are able to live well, and require large supplies.

PARTNERSHIP.—By an advertisement it will be seen that Dr. G. W. PERRINE, late from New York, has become associated with Dr. TRACY in the practice of Medicine. Dr. T.'s numerous "customers"—it is rather an odd word for the purpose—will find Dr. PERRINE a gentleman, a pleasant acquaintance, and a thoroughly educated physician.

FOR GREEN BAY.—The steamer Superior will leave Dousman's dock, on the river, THIS morning at 8 o'clock for Green Bay, touching at Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers. For passage apply on board, or to J. Guerrin, on Huron street, three doors east of American Express Company's Office.

COLLINGWOOD LINE.—The Lady Elgin, Capt. CHAMBERLAIN, will leave Kellogg & Strongs Pier this evening at 7 o'clock, for Collingwood, Lake Huron, connecting with the Railroad to Toronto and boats to Oswego, Lewiston, &c. It is a delightful route for travellers bound East.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Mr. Crampton sold the latter part of last week the North half of lot 5 in block 9 for $4,300 cash. This is the vacant 30 feet on the West side of Main, next to the corner of Wisconsin street.

REMOVAL.—The office of the La Crosse & Milwaukee R. R. Co., heretofore kept in Holton's Block, Fourth Ward, is about being removed to the Depot of the Company in the Second Ward, adjoining Chestnut Street Bridge.

IN GREAT BUSINESS.—The Wisconsin, publishing paragraphs encouraging the infernal racket with which passengers arriving in our city are assailed at the railroad depot and docks. Appropriate enough, however.

THE "HOME."—This well-known Eating House has been thoroughly cleansed and renovated with the in-coming of Spring, and BELDEN is now prepared to accommodate his friends and the public as nobody else can.

PROPELLER NIAGARA.—Consignees by this propellar, which met with a serious disaster on Lake Huron last fall, are referred to our advertising columns for a notice of special interest to them.

FOR BUFFALO.—The propeller Allegheny will leave WM. BROWN & Co.'s wharf on the pier, at 8 o'clock THIS evening, for Buffalo. For passage, having good accommodations, apply to J. Griffin.

WEATHER.—Rain is very much needed, and farmers are beginning to look anxiously for it.—At the time of going to press, the clouds looked encouragingly.

DRY GOODS.—WALL has a large sale of staple Dry Goods at auction this morning. See advertisement

☞ The steamer Traveller arrived from Chicago yesterday afternoon, with 300 passengers, most of them Eastern families.

CARPENTERS WANTED.—Three of them—see advert sement.

HOUSE TO RENT.—See D. G. POWER'S advertisement.

GRAPES.—CRAMPTON sells a fine lot of plants this morning.

SEWING MACHINES.—See advertisement of Sewing Machines for sale.

The week past has been one of considerable activity, both shipments and receipts by lake having been heavy, and the river generally full of shipping. Quite a number of steam craft have arrived from Buffalo, and nearly 1000 tons of merchandize have been landed at the docks and gone into the warehouses of our merchants, or into the country. Several of our wholesale houses have received large consignments of goods by railroad, no goods by the Erie Canal having as yet come through.

The shipments of flour and wheat, as will have been seen above, have been large, and a material reduction is thus made in the stock to go forward. Receipts of wheat from the country are, however, increasing, and there probably remains yet 45,000 bbls. flour and 300,000 bus wheat for shipment.

Our accounts from the country, of the condition of the growing crops, continue favorable, though rain is much needed, all over the State. Our exchanges all speak in the most encouraging terms of the prospect for the farmers.

The following general summary, which we find in the Albany Evening Journal, saves us the labor of making similar one.

From a good number of extracts from papers in various sections, showing the prospects in their local towns, we make a general summary.

Wheat, in Western New York, is said to be looking better than it ever has. The Livingston and Ontario papers say that at least a quarter more than usual has been sown in the eastern part of the State it has not got so good a start, owing to the late cold weather, but still promises well. In Ohio heavy spring crops have been put in, and vegetation, it is said, never came on so forward with greater rapidity in Michigan, though "freezings and thawings" at first nearly destroyed the leaf, it has recovered and is doing well in Northern Indiana, it has rarely, if ever, started better, though in the southern part of the State it looks badly. Three times the amount ever put in before has been sown in Illinois and Wisconsin, it is remarkably fine if no untoward event interposes," says a Chicago paper, the northwest, which is the granary of the Union, will turn out a surplus which will gladden the hearts of the needless in the Eastern cities. In Pennsylvania and New Jersey, prospects are much the same as in New York. In Western Virginia it has been doing badly, but the appearances are now encouraging that the crop will fall short of the average. In Georgia, however, the long result it is believed has considerably damaged the prospect of a fair crop. In Maryland things indicate an unusually large one, as they do in Kentucky and Tennessee, where much more than the usual amount has been sown. In Texas,

It is altogether too soon to speculate about the Corn crop in the Northern States. In Virginia, Maryland and southern Indiana, they have been planning with good weather and fair prospects. But in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, where it ought now to be more than a foot high, it is looking worse than by many years. Some is killed outright, and nearly all really injured by the long drouth. There is reason to apprehend that the yield in these States will be much below the usual crop.

With regard to future prices, it is as difficul as ever to make calculations. When, however, it is considered that in about six or seven weeks, the wheat will begin to come into New York from the Southern markets, it may still be doubted whether figures will go higher than at present; and indeed the chances seem decidedly in favor of a decline in prices. Since, then, farmers are now obtaining, and may be sure of obtaining large prices for their produce for some weeks to come, it is for them to consider whether their best course is not to push forward their remaining stocks.

City Land Office.

Corner of East Water and Wisconsin Sts.

I WOULD CALL YOUR ATTENTION, this morning, to one of the most beautiful Situations in the County or City of Milwaukee. Being on a Plank Road, one mile from the City limits, with a Superior Brick House, containing two rooms. The entire House is warmed with a Furnace. There is also all necessary out buildings, two good Cisterns and a well, together with Twenty acres of Land, beautifully improved and handsomely decorated, with the finest Shrubbery, and as for Fruit not to be surpassed, consisting of Apples, Pears, plums, Apricots, Peaches, Cherries, Grapes, &c., &c. In fact it is not to be equalled in the whole State. The property is well worth, and should sell for $20,000, but [illegible] calls the owner to a situation away for a time, is the reason why he disposes of it.

It will be sold at a bargain, and on good Terms. And he who gets it, will never want to part with it.

EVARTS' Patent Shingle Mill.

EVARTS & BUTLER,

PROPRIETORS AND MANUFACTURERS,

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

THE SMOOTHNESS OF THE WORK WHICH GIVES this Mill its superiority, is produced by making the cut in the direction of the fibres of the wood The saw with which wood is worked in that direction goes with ease, and the friability of the edge is increased by the saw, so that of any given width of saw to the edge, so as to cut away but little of the wood.

The shingles now made with this mill sell in this market seventy five cents per thousand higher than any other sawed shingles

This mill is made entirely of iron—strong, simple and durable, of workmanship, easily worked, and not liable to get out of order

Lots in Sherman's Addition

FOR SALE.

THE FOLLOWING LOTS IN SHERMAN'S ADDITION, for sale The titles to all the Lots are good The drift only commencing the north of said Lots has been secured by a decision of the End of States Court; therefore the sale no more question about the title

Now for another fact—A more beautiful prospect can not be found than Sherman's Addition Any person having a full view of the City and Lake, for building is not to be surpassed, the soil is rich, and I see no reason why property in Sherman's Addition should not command as good prices as the First Ward, and it will only be a few individual years until it will commence and build like Rookery If, for our own present premises, and would agree to build in Sherman's Addition Second Ward

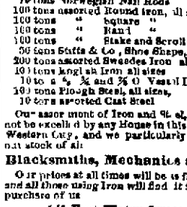
QUEEN'S PATENT PORTABLE FORGE AND BELLOWS!



THIS FORGE can be set where most convenient for light and room, and the smoke conducted to the chimney by a Pipe

There are six sizes of Blacksmiths, Coppersmiths, &c Forges, and five sizes of Jewelers, Dentists and Chemists Forges, all as compact—the Twelve Inch is of sufficient size for a Shop of ordinary size, and will make a comfortable heat from getting fire with coal and shoes, as it will where there is but one opening For out door work and for safety in doors, this Forge has great advantages over others, having two Bellows by which the forge can be close in while using, and for safety and many purposes in doors, (particularly for Jewelers, Dentists and for chemical operations) all the fumes from the coal and solids being conducted through the smoke pipe or when open they are entirely out of the way It is also so constructed that fire or water cannot injure the Bellows, which is in the cylinder under the fire bed

It is the best Forge for Contractors on Railroads, Public Works, (for making repairs on the same,) and for engineers on new countries over offered to the public, and are successfully used by most of the steamers, and also by the U. S. Army and Navy For sale by

THE SMOOTHNESS OF THE WORK WHICH GIVES this mill its superiority, is produced by shaking it on an inclined direction of the fibres of the wood. ## Lots in Sherman's Addition

FOR SALE.

THE FOLLOWING LOTS IN SHERMAN'S ADDITION, for sale. The titles to all the Lots are good. The difficulty concerning the title of said Lots has been removed by a decision of the United States Court; therefore the will be no more question about that. Now for another fact—A more beautiful prospect can not be found than Sherman's Addition. You have a full view of the City and Lake, for health it is not to be surpassed, the soil is rich, and I see no reason why property in Sherman's Addition should not command as good prices as in the First Ward, and it will if only a few individuals will commence. And lastly I see no reason why property will not greatly increase in, for one, Sherman's Addition Second Ward.

The foregoing I am sold to close up the estate of our late friend Holliday

QUEEN'S PATENT

FORGE

BELLOWS!

THIS FORGE can be set where most convenient for light and room, and the smoke conducted to the Chimney by a Pipe

There are six sizes of Blacksmiths, Coppersmiths, &c Forges, and five sizes of Jewelers, Dentists and Chemists

It is compact—the Twyer Iron is of superior construction—heats the iron in the quickest manner—the wind expect from the bellows through several holes in the Twyer cup, which being under the fire, prevents the Twyer from getting filled up with coal and ashes, as it will where there is but one opening. For out door work and for safety in transportation, the Forge has great advantages over others, it being two Skiles by which the forge can be close in shut up, and for safety and many purposes in doors, is indispensable for Jewelers, Dentists and for chemical operations; all the fumes from the coal and ashes being conducted through the smoke pipe or when open they are entirely out of the way. It is also so constructed that fire or water cannot injure the Bellows, which is in the cylinder under the fire bed.

It is the best Forge for Contractors on Railroads, Public Works, (for making repairs on the same,) and for engineers and for new countries not yet supplied, and are successfully used by most of the steamers, and also by the U. S. Army and Navy. For sale by
